You are invited to participate in a research project where we will measure pain, nausea and pruritus after undergo caesarean section. You have been asked to participate in this study because you are a woman planning a caesarean section.

WHAT IS THE PROJECT ABOUT?

This is a request for you to participate in a study to examine pain, nausea and pruritus during the first 24 hours following the operation. We will also measure the amount of additional analgetics you receive, what type and medication against nausea. This is to evaluate if the current pain management at our hospital should be adjusted, for example adding morphine to the spinal anaesthesia.

You are invited because you will undergo caesarean section in spinal anaesthesia. We will examine how much pain and nausea you experience the first 24 hours. We will ask about pain and nausea according to a table. A nurse/midwife will record your answers every 30 minutes at the postoperative care unit, and every 4 hours at the maternity ward.
